Patron

We are absolutely delighted to announce that Emma Thompson, the award winning actress, has agreed to become our first Patron.

"The Daisy Garland is an extremely worthwhile cause. This family-run, registered charity works tirelessly to raise funds for children with epilepsy. They put their efforts to the best use by funding specialist dietitians to work within the National Health System, giving children with difficult to control epilepsy a chance to reach their full potential in life. I am delighted to be associated with this charity and give them my full and heartfelt support."

One Of Our Little Patients

Hugo is one of our little ketogenic patients. This is what his parents have to say about the Ketogenic Diet:

"Fortunately we heard about the Ketogenic diet from a friend and we were then lucky to get a place with a 'Daisy Garland Charity' funded dietitian (what a difference they have made to Hugo's life!) We did not really feel that our doctor's held much hope for it. Surgery was suggested as another possibility. The diet was not a success straight away. The drugs were not helping matters so Hugo came off them as soon as possible. Hugo is doing amazingly well, he has no seizures, is alert and able to concentrate and is so much happier and able to be himself (good most of the time!)."
